Thursday night Capt. Bob Peterson came by the house and suggested: "Let's go fishing."
"Where?"
"Millwood, of course."
"What time?"

Sharing Plan

Prince Charles, being a bachelor and unencumbered by the expenses of maintaining a married man's household, has volunteered to give half his pay back to the government when he turns 21 in November. Interesting how the American way of doing things spreads. John Q. Taxpayer has been giving half his pay to the government for years. — Anniston (Ala.) Star

Not Appealing

There may have been good reasons, in the judgment of the government people concerned, for giving women's names to hurricanes, but objection may be found.

For example, what parents living on the Gulf coast would want to name a girl baby "Camille"? — Little Rock (Ark.) Arkansas Gazette.

Graffiti

A bit of graffiti, chalked on a wall, declares plaintively: "I wish I was what I was when I wished I was what I am now."

Anybody able to crystallize the generation gap, and restless youth any better than that?

— Orlando (Fla.) Sentinel

Muffin Fork

Emile A. Rivard of New York City has been awarded a patent for a double fork that opens muffins. The fork has two handles and two meshing tines. Holding a muffin in his hand, a diner pushes the tines into the muffin, squeezes the handles and neatly splits the muffin. Mr. Rivard no doubt is going to be awfully surprised when he discovers that someone has invented the knife. — Charleston (S.C.) News and Courier

A Judge Speaks to Teen-Agers

Few people in any municipality deal more regularly with troubled teen-agers and their problems than do juvenile court judges. It is their delicate task to guide young people—and very often their parents—when the adolescent's activities come into conflict with civil or criminal statutes. One such jurist, Judge Gilliam of the Denver, Colo., Juvenile Court, wrote an open letter to all youngsters on that most persistent of all teen-age questions "What can I do?" Judge Gilliam's thoughts, the product of over 100,000 court cases involving youth, bear repetition as the fall semester begins.

"Always we hear the plaintive cry: 'What can we do? Where can we go?' The answer is go home. Hang the storm windows, paint the woodwork, rake the leaves, mow the lawn, wash the car, learn to cook, scrub some floors, repair the sink, get a job, study your lessons, or read a good book."

"Your parents do not owe you entertainment. Your village does not owe you recreation facilities. The world does not owe you a living. You owe it your time and energy and talents so that no one will be at war or in poverty or sick or lonely again . . . In plain words, 'Grow up.' Quit being a crybaby, get out of your dream world, develop a backbone, not a wishbone, and start acting like a man, or a lady." — Nashville (Tenn.) Banner

Mexico Riot Has Subsided

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Extra police and security agents patrolled the city Thursday night, but officials reported no public demonstrations on the first anniversary of a bloody clash between the army and students at the downtown Culture Plaza. The clash began early in the evening Oct. 2, 1968, and continued into the night. When it was over, 35 persons had died, including several soldiers.

Says Nixon Trying, Cong Won't Listen

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George D. Aiken, the Senate's senior Republican, predicted today President Nixon will order a new troop withdrawal of 40,000 men from Vietnam before Christmas and that most of the ground troops will be pulled out by the end of 1970.

"I expect that the President will probably give us another troop withdrawal for Christmas — enough to make 100,000 men this year," the Vermont senator told a reporter.

He said he has not discussed the possibility of such a new withdrawal with Nixon but that "The South Vietnamese government seems to be confident it can take things over."

Aiken said, however, that the troops would not actually leave Vietnam until about February 1970.

Some 60,000 troops have been included in troop withdrawals announced by Nixon so far.

He said in June he hopes to match former Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford's call for withdrawal of 100,000 troops this year.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said earlier he thinks Nixon is trying to end the war but "it just hasn't worked out as he had hoped."

The Montana Democrat suggested the United States call for a stand-still cease-fire, under which American troops would fire only if attacked and at the same time work for a coalition government in Vietnam.

Mansfield's statement in an interview came as Democrats were in the midst of another round of sharp attacks on the Nixon war policy.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, who tried for the 1968 Democratic presidential nomination on an antiwar platform, charged Thursday that Nixon's policies and rhetoric resemble that of former President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Feels Kinda Bad Being Called an Old-timer for the First Time

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Well, it finally happened. Somebody called me an old-timer.

I was walking down the office hall, mulling over what advice to give President Nixon next, when a young fellow employee approached.

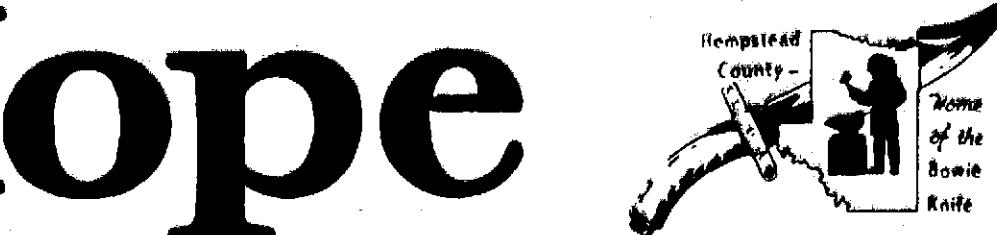

"Hi there, old-timer," he said giving him a karate chop behind his right ear. But I didn't—for several reasons. First, I don't like to run; second, my karate chop hasn't been too successful since 1945; third, I realized the whippersnapper thought he was giving me a compliment by calling me an old-timer.

But his three-word remark had changed my world forever. There are several landmark days in a man's life, such as the day he first puts on long trousers, the day he lets his first paycheck, and the day he marries.

So is the day he is first called

His salutation rang in my ears: "Hi there, old-timer. . . . Hi there, old-timer."

At first I thought of running after the whippersnapper and

Nixon Will Act to Block Rail Strike

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon acted today to block for 60 days a threatened strike against major railroads.

Nixon, spending the weekend at his seaside home, signed an executive order creating an emergency board to look into the dispute between the six rail lines and the National Railway Labor Conference.

The board will make recommendations after a 30-day period and parties to the dispute will then have 30 additional days to bargain.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said, "We fully expect they will be able to reach an agreement in the 60-day period."

The presidential decision to name an emergency board prevents a nationwide rail shutdown which was to have become effective one minute after mid-

'Paper Gold' Money Based on Cooperation, Faith Among Nations

By JOHN M. PEARCE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The International Monetary Fund today launches its "paper gold," a new good-as-gold money based on faith and cooperation between nations.

Baloting among the 74 countries that have agreed so far to take part in the sweeping new program of Special Drawing Rights opened Thursday morning as the fund and the World Bank neared the end of their five-day annual meeting here.

Although votes were not announced, only South Africa's position appeared in doubt. As the fund's largest gold-producing country it has a special interest not only in the continued use of gold but also in its expansion.

Paper gold, or SDRs, will be international money backed by nothing more than the fact that nations will accept it in payment for world trade, just as they do now. It will exist only on the fund's books and will change hands only on ledger sheets.

Nevertheless, paper gold will be as good as the genuine article simply because the nations agree that it is, which is the only reason gold is accepted.

Of the $9.5 billion to be distributed in paper gold's first three years, $3.5 billion will come to life next Jan. 1. Plans are for $3 billion to be distributed on the first days of 1971 and 1972.

The fund's managing director, Pierre-Paul Schweitzer, proposed last month that the SDRs be distributed in proportion to nations' quotas—or required contributions—to the fund.

Since the United States and other industrial countries have the largest quotas because they have the strongest and most productive economies, they will receive most of the SDRs. They also have the largest voice in deciding whether SDRs will be distributed, and met in Paris last July to work out the details of the plan.

One banker figured that the 11 biggest nations in the fund would, over three years, receive almost two-thirds of the total.

Because of the heavy way the major countries are favored, several finance ministers—most frequently Emilio Colombo of It-

Old Streets Are Dug Up

PLYMOUTH, England (AP)

— The streets trod by the Pilgrim fathers before they left for America have been dug up, broken up and polished for sale to American tourists.

The centuries old 28-pound granite cobblestones were lifted from this city's ancient Barbican area during resurfacing. They have been broken into convenient pieces, scrubbed and embossed with the city's coat of arms in readiness for the 350th anniversary next year of the sailing of the Mayflower.

Haynsorth Denies He's Withdrawing

By BARRY SCHWED
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate's senior Republican, Sen. George D. Aiken of Vermont, said today "I would think" President Nixon would want to consider withdrawing the Supreme Court nomination of Judge Clement F. Haynsorth if there are going to be 30 or 40 Senate votes against confirming it.

Stressing that he is absolutely uncommitted on the controversial nomination, Aiken said: "If there are going to be as many as 30 or 40 votes against it, it would be rather difficult for the justice himself—should he get confirmed—to live it down."

"I don't think I would want to be confirmed by a vote of 60 to 40," Aiken told a reporter.

Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., meanwhile joined Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., in calling on the President to withdraw the Haynsorth nomination.

Congressional sources report counts showing 56 votes for Haynsorth, while the White House reportedly has been told that as many as 40 senators may oppose the judge. There are 100 votes in the Senate.

Aiken said he had told presidential aides, when they asked his position, that he remains uncommitted.

Haynsorth denied reports that he had sought to have his nomination withdrawn.

"I did not think about such a thing," Haynsorth told a reporter who asked whether he had asked President Nixon to call back the appointment. "I don't know where you all got such a thing. Somebody else dreamed the thing up."

When they asked whether he anticipated asking that the nomination be withdrawn, Haynsorth replied: "I have not and I don't."

Despite Haynsorth's denial, and one from the White House, the congressional sources who disclosed the original reports to the Associated Press Thursday remained firm today.

The sources said the White House had concluded after an informal headcount that at least 40 of the 100 senators were prepared to vote against confirmation of the 56-year-old U.S. appeals court judge.

One midwestern senator was reported to have told his staff hours before the reports were published Thursday that Haynsorth was asking that his name be withdrawn and that a statement from the White House was imminent.

But afterward and following a talk with Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the latest information "indicates that this report is absolutely untrue."

Two of Haynsorth's strongest backers in the Senate took a similar tack. Sen. Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C., the initial sponsor of the nomination, called the withdrawal report ridiculous.

MOP, Cotton Belt May Go on Strike

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) —

The employees of the Cotton Belt and Missouri Pacific railroads have been informed that both railroads will cease operations at 12:01 a.m. Saturday if a union strike begins as scheduled.

A MoP spokesman in St. Louis reported that similar notices were posted by all members of the National Railway Labor Conference, which represents management of the nation's 76 major railroads.

The International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers, the Sheetmetal Workers, the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and the International Brotherhood of Boilermakers, Iron Ship Builders, Blacksmiths, Forgers and Helpers have called the strikes against seven railroads.

The chief negotiator for the wins, William W. Wintzinger, has said the strikes would go on as scheduled.

ay—suggested that some way be found to use the new man-made money to help underdeveloped countries.

The idea was rejected twice by the major nations. The reason given was that the new money should at first be used only to increase world reserves, or the pool of gold and currency nations now use to finance their trade when they import more than they export and have balance of payments deficits.

International finance analysts point out that world reserves are growing more slowly than world trade, a situation which could eventually lead to a trade slowdown for no other reason than a money shortage.

This should not happen, they reason, if nations can agree to take something else as they agree to take gold as payment.

Nuclear Test Caused No Chain Reaction

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)

"We will not have to return to the Aleutians," said Maj. Gen. Edward B. Giller, assistant general manager of military applications for the AEC.

Gov. Keith Miller, a Republican who supported the test, said the commission had advised him that it would be at least two years before another test would be set off on Amchitka Island in the Aleutian chain after Thursday's blast which did not yield an earthquake or a tidal wave.

The Soviet Union, Japan and Canada as well as numerous U.S. scientists and political figures had objected to the one-megaton underground explosion because they feared it would cause seismic disturbances in the tremor-prone Alaskan or Aleutian faults.

Young made the statement after it was announced that the senior high school and three junior high schools at Texarkana, Tex., would be closed until Monday, a sitdown by 150-200 Negroes on school grounds prompted the action. The sitdown followed fist fights between Negro and white students on the school parking lot.

The hole was 64 inches in diameter. Another hole 6,000 feet deep and 90 inches in diameter had been drilled. A third hole 6,000 feet deep and 120 inches in diameter is being drilled.

The AEC said the first explosion was a suitability test and indicated the results were satisfactory. It has not announced a reason for the next two. Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., noted this week reports that warheads of the antiballistic missile would be tested at the site.

The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia condemned the test Thursday, saying such an explosion could set off an earthquake and tidal wave, and constituted a U.S. escalation of the arms race. The blast was 700 miles from the Soviet mainland.

Japan and Canada made formal protests and Canada said it would bill the United States for any damage.

Canadian students demonstrated against the test Wednesday at U.S.-Canada border entry points, and closed the border between British Columbia and Washington for a short time.

The AEC said the test was so successful that it planned to fly other scientific personnel and workers back to the island Friday instead of Saturday as planned.

A total of 152 scientists and other personnel on the island felt the explosion in a concrete bunker 28 miles from ground zero. The rolling shock was felt on the island of Adak, 200 miles away.

Germans to Vote on New Coalition

BONN, Germany (AP)

Parliamentary deputies of the Social Democratic and Free Democratic parties met today to vote on a new coalition government while the Christian Democrats made a last-ditch attempt to prevent the union.

Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger sent a letter to Free Democratic chief Walter Scheel reiterating his Christian Democrats' proposal for a coalition without the Socialists.

A coalition between the Free Democratic Party (FDP) and the Social Democratic Party (SPD) would break the 20-year dominance of Kiesinger's party, the nation's largest, in West German politics. It would also make SPD Foreign Minister Willy Brandt the new chancellor.

Gen. Johnson confirmed Prueett's statement that Wooldridge and other sergeants were stopped by U.S. customs in Hawaii in the spring of 1967 for attempting to avoid duty on liquor by smuggling it into the United States on board the personal aircraft of Gen. Creighton Abrams, U.S. commander in Vietnam, Prueett said.

Three Planes Shot Down by Enemy

By GEORGE ESPER

Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. paratroopers fought North Vietnamese forces along the demilitarized zone and closer to Saigon while the United States lost three more aircraft in the war, military spokesman said today.

Two observation helicopters of the 82nd Airborne Division were shot down early today in a firefight 20 miles north of Saigon. Paratroopers on the ground lost one man killed and 10 wounded in the engagement, reports from the field said.

The 82nd Airborne has only its 3rd Brigade in Vietnam. That, together with one regiment of the 3rd Marine Division, are the major combat units being redeployed under President Nixon's second round of troop withdrawals.

A U.S. Air Force Phantom fighter-bomber crashed Thursday 95 miles northeast of Saigon, killing one crewman. The U.S. Command said the plane was believed shot down by enemy fire.

Two Americans were reported killed and 20 wounded in 20 enemy rocket and mortar attacks during the past 24 hours, the U.S. Command said.

The DMZ action involved paratroopers of the 101st Airborne Division, moved up to replace departing Marines, spokesman said.

The spokesman said a company of 100 to 150 paratroopers was patrolling a mile south of the DMZ late Thursday when it ran into fewer than 50 North Vietnamese troops in bunkers.

A two-hour exchange of small-arms and machine-gun fire killed two paratroopers and wounded four. Enemy casualties were not known.

Another company of paratroopers a mile away came under a 25-round mortar barrage from North Vietnamese but suffered no casualties, U.S. headquarters said.

Paratroopers of the 101st Airborne Division have been redeployed along the DMZ to help fill the gap left by the 3rd Regiment, 3rd Marine Division, which began redeployment to Okinawa last Monday under President Nixon's second round of American troop withdrawals.

The 3rd Brigade of the 101st Airborne is patrolling around the craggy outpost known as the Rockpile, operating farther north than ever in the war. It was moved from the A Shau Valley, 60 miles south along the Laotian border.

Official sources said that while the defense of the northern frontier will fall primarily to the 20,000-man South Vietnamese 1st Infantry Division, the 101st Airborne will conduct reconnaissance patrols along the DMZ as well as the Laotian border.

The clash along the DMZ was one of several sporadic actions across the country, but again no major sustained fighting was reported by the allied commands.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Thomas Glaze wrote the opinion which said expenses for mileage could be filed only while an employee was on "official business" for the state.

Brandon said he had been advised by the attorney general's office that mileage to and from the office and food or lodging within the city or town of the employee's "official station" could not be included on an expense account.

Brandon said he had been advised by the attorney general's office that mileage to and from the office and food or lodging within the city or town of the employee's "official station" could not be included on an expense account.

State Revenue Commissioner Bob Scott said he was aware the claims referred to by Brandon could not be made legitimately.

"I am aware of one employee in the Revenue Department claiming mileage allowance to and from his home and an audit is being made," Scott said. "As soon as that audit reflects the amount the individual will be required to reimburse the state."

Training Corps should be continued as "a major procurement source" of officers for the Army, Navy and Air Force. ROTC currently supplies more than half the regular officers.

Now I have always had a great respect for old-timers. But you can respect a sword swallower, a lion tamer, or even a female impersonator without wishing to be one myself.

That's the way I've always felt about old-timers.

The trouble with becoming an old-timer is that you have no power of selection in the matter yourself. You become an old-timer when other people decide you are one.

Unaccustomed as I am yet to this unasked promotion, I can see that certain perquisites accrue to the state of old-timerhood.

For example:

The younger employees no longer try to pre-empt your favorite coat hanger, knowing that trifling upsets such as this can ruin your whole day.

If there's a long line at the morning office coffee car, you can ease your way in at the head of it without starting a major war.

and obey your orders," said Lt. Col. Jack Prueett, explaining why he did not challenge a directive from Turner to close a probe into the affairs of William O. Wooldridge, then the Army's No. 1 enlisted man.

Prueett said his plea for firing Wooldridge, whom he said had a court martial conviction in his record, met this response from Gen. Turner:

"Many people are accused of many things, Sgt. Wooldridge is just a good old country boy."

In testifying that he had been ordered by Gen. Turner to have Wooldridge's name removed from investigators' files concerning the probe, Prueett said: "I must admit I was extremely upset because we realized that if you omit one offender from the file you might as well close the case, I knew no reason why the case should be closed."

At the time Prueett commanded the Army's Criminal Investigations Division, responsible directly to Turner, the provost marshal.

Turner has since retired. He was appointed chief U.S. marshal by President Nixon earlier this year but suddenly resigned when a renewed Defense Department investigation of the affair became known.

Prueett testified Turner told him he was personally taking responsibility in the case at the request of Gen. Harold K. Johnson, then Army chief of staff. Johnson had named Wooldridge to his position in July 1966.

NEW YORK (AP) — You may have to look close, but the mortal husband of the supernatural blonde of "Bewitched" seems to have changed a little over the summer.

It is, actually, another actor playing the part of Darrin Stevens. Dick Sargent has replaced Dick York but their physical resemblance is startling and their acting styles are remarkably similar. Sargent, though, sounds a little like Paul Lynde in some scenes.

The series also has acquired a new character, a nervous sorceress named Esmeralda, played by the delightful Alice Ghostley. When Esmeralda is upset, which is often, her magic spells don't work well. On Thursday night, for instance, when she tried to achieve a Caesar salad, something went wrong and she produced Julius Caesar.

Arlene Treat, 8th grade, $50.00 Bond and Gaylord Solomon, teacher.

The early part of Thursday night has become a fairly satisfying time for the viewer who wants to relax with nontaxing, light-hearted short shows.

CBS kicks off its schedule this season with "Family Affair" which even in its former, later time period was popular with young viewers as well as adults.

Now in its fourth year, the show has its strongest appeal in the two youngest performers,

HOPE (ARK) STAR, Printed by Offset
Anissa Jones and Johnny Whitaker who seem to be able to postpone that awkward age that has sent so many child stars into retirement.

The story Thursday was, however, less comedy than an illustrated lesson. The head of the family brought home an old friend just released from prison. The two smaller children treated him suspiciously; the older girl leaped on him as a sociological specimen; French, the family factotum, disapproved of him. Result: a lesson from Uncle Bill on the importance of giving people a second chance. It was well done.

"That Girl" on ABC, followed. The show also is going on four and the principal is as career-minded as ever. The scripts, while hardly memorable, give Mario Thomas plenty of room to play an impulsive, droll young woman. She is well protected by an excellent cast, particularly Ted Bessell as her patient fiance and Lew Parker as her father.

"Dragnet" on NBC was in its familiar brisk groove, with Sgt. Friday and Officer Gannon chasing down a jewel thief on the strength of an informant's tip. The story built neatly to the climax where the jewels were recovered from a living room tank of piranhas—the one place the police had failed to look. Friday earlier had delivered a lecture about not hiding valuables around the house—but even armchair detectives knew enough to look at the bottom of fish tanks.

The style and tempo of "Dragnet" after all of these years occasionally seems to be a bore, but, taken in small doses, it is a pretty good show.

UNANSWERABLE QUESTION

Dear Helen: What popular color seems to irritate males the most? And why does it irritate them? I am a newlywed who wants to please her husband. — JOSIE

Dear Josie: I asked six males and five of them said they liked red the least of any color, but then I may have picked five bull-headed males. My research is definitely not conclusive. Why don't you ask your husband?

Dear Helen: "E.B." asked, "What are we older widows to do?" You asked us widows to answer. Here's my story.

I know how desolate she feels. When I lost my husband I felt like driving my car into Lake Superior, but I could not do this to my children.

I had not worked during my 34 years of marriage. Now I needed to, for economic and emotional reasons. I enrolled in a business college when I was 60 years old!

After graduation I look for work, but employment offices had nothing to offer because of my age. One manager said God would have to be sitting on my shoulder, and I guess he was, for I finally found a job as a typist. After I retired at 65, I augmented my Social Security with part time work as a telephone solicitor. I find most people are polite, though I still have an aversion to this work.

E.B. may be cheered to know that the Age Discrimination in Employment Act became a national law a year ago and, by writing to the Women's Bureau, Wage and Labor Standards Administration, U.S. Department of Labor, Washington, D.C. 20201, she may get a copy of "How You Can Help Reduce Barriers to the Employment of Mature Women." — MRS. L.J.B.

Dear Helen: I must answer "E.B." who, at 57, says she is too old for employment, too young for Social Security. You're never too old unless you give in to age.

She should have a physical check-up, lose weight if need be, get a hair style and clothes that are becoming, read the latest magazines to keep posted, join clubs (check the library for

Hope Going to Leopards' Homecoming

By RALPH ROUTON

Toss the coin and you might come up with a favorite, it's that close, as Hope plays Malvern tonight at 7:30 p.m. on Leopards' Homecoming, and 4-AA West title contention is on the line.

A big factor has to be the Malvern playing surface, which looked purely terrible to this writer a few weeks ago. Hope's running game, dependent on the speed and cutting ability of several backs, must have good traction to be successful.

Passing and both teams' defenses are the weights holding the battle in balance. The Bobcats, with quarterback Ronnie Massanelli throwing five touch-down passes, by far have the better aerial game.

Comparatively, Massanelli was mentioned this week in the Arkansas Democrat as a nominee for Arkansas' Back of the Week honors. The Leopards, on the other hand, are struggling between two non-throwners, David Pennington and Tom McClure. Between them, Malvern has totaled only 23 yards passing all year and that is a serious deficiency since the Leopards don't have an overpowering running attack.

With this in mind, don't be surprised to see the Bobcat defense come up in a goal-line setup on Malvern offensive plays.

The Leopards will combine quick pitches and sweeps with belly series up the middle and traps when they have the pigskin. The line is fairly large but inexperienced, and the winning confidence is not there.

As defenses go, both are young. However, Hope has the confidence of having throttled three opponents completely. Malvern has been run roughshod on the statistics charts, and that difference should show forth in such an important game as this 4-AA West opener.

Everything aside, Hope will be ready to play at 7:30 p.m. Malvern, with a few bad breaks, could fall fast. That is doubtful, but the Bobcats still have the definite edge. Call it 13-7 for the Cats' fifth straight win, as Hope makes it past the first mountain.

KXAR will broadcast the game live from Leopard Stadium in Malvern for those who cannot make the trip, with pre-game activities beginning at about 7:00 p.m.

Big Crowds Expected at Playoffs

By GORDON BEARD

BALTIMORE (AP) — "We're trying to accomplish in five games," Earl Weaver said, "what in previous years it took 162 games to do."

That's how the Baltimore manager views the upcoming inaugural American League playoff series between the Orioles and the Minnesota Twins, opening Saturday in Memorial Stadium.

Crowds of 45,000 or more are expected for each of the two games in Baltimore, where attendance just eased over the 1 million mark on the final day of the regular season.

Rose Takes Bat Title 2nd Time

By ED SHEARER

Associated Press Sports Writer Atlanta (AP) — Cincinnati's Pete Rose won the National League batting champion ship for the second straight year Thursday night with a bunt single against Atlanta he called "the biggest hit I ever got—not the longest, the biggest."

The tap down the third base line came with two out and runners at first and second in the eighth inning after Rose had gone 0-for-3 while his closest contender, Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh, was 3 for 3.

At that point, Clemente had climbed to within .0008 of Rose, who finished with an unofficial .348. Clemente went out in his fourth trip against Montreal and ended the year with an unofficial .345 average.

"I knew if I went 0-for-4 and he went perfect he could beat me," Rose said.

He said he learned of Clemente's three hits from "some fellow in the first row. I was as nervous as I've ever been. I didn't know what to do." Rose, who has 1,018 hits in the last five seasons, said, "That's the first time in my life I've bunted with two men out and runners in scoring position."

Rose called Clemente the "best hitter in baseball" and said, "It's an honor to beat a guy like that. He's won it (batting title) four times."

Rose said he had set his goal for 200 hits and 100 runs before the season began. He achieved both. Rose scored twice in Cincinnati's 8-3 victory over Atlanta Thursday night, giving him 120 for the year to tie San Francisco's Bobby Bonds for the league scoring title.

Rose missed seven games this year because of his military obligation "but I won't have to worry about that next year," he said. "My obligation is over with."

Dave Bristol, the Reds' manager, was asked if he thought Rose might hit .400.

"He's got that something about him," Bristol said. "Two-hundred hits, that's a must. I'll just settle for .348 and I think he would, too."

From the ten, with third and seven, quarterback Kenny Grounds dropped back to pass, saw daylight, and trotted untouched into the end zone. This time Pickett split the uprights, and Ashdown led it 13-0 at halftime.

Early in the third quarter the Bobkittens took the ball down to the Ashdown ten-yard line, but the blocking broke down on three plays and QB Buddy Ingram was hit on fourth down at the Panther Cub 16. That hurt Hope, because Ashdown held the ball the rest of the period.

On the last play of the third segment, with third and one at his own 39, Ashdown Coach Franky Jones sent in a long pass, and Grounds hit end Jimmy Welch behind the secondary for 61 yards and the tally. Pickett kicked it through and Yerger trailed 20-0.

Things changed from the second, as Barker took the ensuing kickoff and ran it down to the Panther Cub 48. On first down, Ingram dropped back and threw to David Johnson, who ran it in to complete the 48-yard play that started a wild fourth quarter. Going for two points, Ingram threw incomplete and it was 20-6.

On the onside kick, Yerger linebacker Mike Waters recovered at midfield and the offense started up again. This time they got to the 25, but Ingram threw an interception and the drive ended. However, Ashdown was forced to kick, and the Kittens took over at Ashdown's 39 with 3:36 left.

Two plays later, Ingram took it back on a double handoff, and hit Jackie Barker for 30 yards and the TD. Huddleston kicked it good, and the score was 20-13 with 3:19 left.

When Huddleston kicked off into the end zone, the Panther Cubs started at the 20 and ran off a time-consuming first down. Then they were held and had to punt, and Welch kicked it out-of-bounds at the Hope 41.

From there, Ingram hit Don Lively for a first down just past midfield, then the protection broke down and Ingram was hit for a loss back to the 42 with a minute left.

In a frenzy, Ingram threw the next one into a crowd, and Bobkitten Ricky Hart came up with it at the Ashdown 30. Then, after another completion moved it to the 18, midnight struck as Ashdown intercepted at their one-yard line and ran out the clock.

Still, the passing show of the fourth quarter netted the Kittens 196 yards passing, as Yerger led the statistics battle down the board. David Johnson, who broke for 40 yards in that unsuccessful third-period advance, led both

Friday, October 3, 1969 Figures Green Bay Will Be Defeated

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Green Bay may run into its first loss Sunday at Minnesota but Los Angeles, Dallas and Cleveland, the other unbeaten in the National Football League, should make it three in a row.

Cincinnati, one of the two perfect record clubs in the American Football League, may find San Diego tougher to handle the second time around. Oakland should roll to a fourth straight at Miami.

Form held up in the NFL last week but upsets ruled the AFL and the old Hand picker had a 9-4 record. Let's try again. All games are Sunday unless otherwise noted.

NFL

Minnesota 20, Green Bay 14— Vikings trial in series, 11-5 but beat Packers twice last year and are coming off 52-14 over Baltimore. The Joe Kapp-Jogene Washington combo has been hot and the ground game is due to start producing. Packers show new threats in Dave Hampton and Travis Williams. Game in University of Minnesota Stadium due to baseball conflict..

Dallas 28, Philadelphia 21— Cowboys will find Eagles tougher than last year with Norm Shead on beam and Ben Hawkins driving defenders crazy. Calvin Hill hasn't been stopped yet and Craig Morton's damaged knuckle should be healed Dallas has too much defense.

Los Angeles 24, New Orleans 14— Rams can't afford to take Saints lightly with Bill Kilmer coming off a fine effort and Andy Livingston running like he once did for Bears. Kilmer will get the big rush from that Ram front four and Roman Gabriel should pick Saint secondary apart.

Cleveland 20, Detroit 17— A few misgivings about this pick. The Lions hold 10-2 edge over Browns and should be sky high after 24-0 ramble over Giants. Despite work of Nick Eddy and Mel Farr and Lem Barney's defensive heroics, the Browns' offense should get them home in a tight one. Leroy Kelly may be back.

Baltimore 28, Atlanta 14— If the Colts can't gather up the pieces after the disaster in Minnesota they might as well forget the season. Falcons never have beaten Colts, who dumped them twice last year. Another rough day for Bob Berry, dumped 10 times by Rams last week. Game at Georgia Tech's Grant Field due to baseball conflict.

St. Louis 24, Pittsburgh 16— Cards sure to note the way Eagles picked on Steelers' secondary last week. Despite sluggish offense, Cards should muddle home with a win as they did in 27-13 exhibition game at Norfolk, Aug. 16. Loss of Jerry Stoval hurts Cards.

Washington 21, San Francisco 17— Out on the limb with the way Cards picked on Steelers' secondary last week. Despite sluggish offense, Cards should muddle home with a win as they did in 27-13 exhibition game at Norfolk, Aug. 16. Loss of Jerry Stoval hurts Cards.

Incentive on Side of the Froggies

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas' Southwest Conference opener here Saturday with TCU appears to be a mismatch.

The third-ranked Razorbacks have beaten Oklahoma State University and Tulsa by a cumulative 94-0.

On the other hand, TCU has given up 104 points while losing to Purdue and top-ranked Ohio State.

However, Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles fears TCU, contending the Horned Frogs will have all kinds of incentive.

First, TCU hasn't beaten Arkansas in 10 years.

Second, even coach Fred Taylor knows his Horned Frogs aren't as bad as last week's 62- defeat by Ohio State would indicate.

"They're not that bad and they've been humiliated," said Broyles. "They can be a good team and they know it. They'll get their top effort of the year."

"I sure they've got their sights set on us," said Broyles. "Whatever happened the first two weeks doesn't count now," Broyles said. "Both of us are 0-1 in the Southwest Conference standings, and the conference championship is what we're all shooting for."

Injuries could play an important role in the game.

TCU lost hard-running Norman Bulaich on the first play of the Ohio State game and Taylor says he doesn't know whether the 215-pounder will play Saturday.

Arkansas tailback Bill Burnett, who scored two touchdowns against Tulsa, suffered a charleyhorse and is also on the doubtful list. Burnett, a junior, scored 16 touchdowns last year. He and Arkansas fullback Bruce Maxwell are the two leading rushers in the SWC.

Both teams will have to contend with fine quarterbacks— Steve Judy for TCU and Bill Montgomery for Arkansas.

Judy was named the SWC Back of the Week after he threw five touchdown passes in the Horned Frogs' opening 42-35 loss to Purdue.

"Judy is a threat three ways," says Arkansas defensive line coach Charley Coffey. "He can throw the rollout pass real well, and is a running threat there. He can drop back, or he can throw the play-action pass, which is probably the most difficult to cover. He'll throw when everyone comes up for the run."

"Montgomery, who guided the Razorbacks to a 10-1 season as a sophomore, has not compiled any fantastic statistics this year, but he's capable. He completed 134 of 234 for 1,595 yards in 1968.

Broyles also announced Thursday that David Cox, a senior, would start at flanker in place of John Rees. Rees, a junior, started the first two games, but did not catch a pass.

Cox, playing on the second unit, caught three for 25 yards against Oklahoma State and snagged four for 42 yards and a touchdown against Tulsa.

Williams was given the gate for alleged lack of communication with his players. He had feuded with many of his stars—and stars always come first.

Kasko played his final year in the major leagues with many established stars such as Carl Yastrzemski, Tony Conigliaro, Rico Petrocelli and Jim Lonborg. In addition, he sent up

The 1929 consolidation joined the two principal newspaper lines dating back to within five years of Hope's incorporation in 1875.1899 — Star of Hope founded as a weekly by Claude McCorkle; converted to an evening daily
by his son, Ed. McCorkle, dying until the 1929 consolidation.The opposition line:
1880 — Hope News founded by Lawry Brothers.
1883 — Sold to Withers & Johnson, name changed to Hope Telegraph.1883 — Later in same year resold to Claude McCorkle and renamed Hope Mercury.1884 — Sold to James H. Betts, who named it Hope Gazette, under which name it was published continuously until 1922, published by
Betts, J. L. Tullis, and Col. W.W.
Folsom the last-named dying in 1916.1916 — Purkins & Gates bought the weekly Gazette and made it a companion paper to their new daily, Arkansas Evening Herald
— but both papers suspended in 1922.1926 — Plant was revived by Curtis Cannon as the weekly
Hempstead County Review.1927 — Cannon sold plant to D.A. Gean, who established the morning Hope Daily Press.1929 — C. E. Palmer and A.H.
Washburn consolidated The Star and the Press as Hope Star, with Palmer as president and Washburn secretary-treasurer.1957 — Following Mr. Palmer's death Mrs. Palmer became president.1969 — With Mrs. Palmer's retirement from Star Publishing Co., Washburn became 76 per cent owner and president — balance 24 per cent being held by Texarkana Newspapers, Inc.B ARBSBy PHIL PASTORET It's easy to narrow the field in guessing who will get your rich aunt's money—it won't be you.Yes, sir, this is the age of specialization. At a monastery we know of
there are two cooks on nights when they have fish 'n' chips—the fish
friar and the chip monk.

The official specific gravity quotient for your 1867
gold eagle is 17.2. A tolerance of .5 plus or minus is acceptable and if you get this figure your piece is undoubtedly genuine. However,
I would suggest one further step to be sure. If you mail your coin to the U.S. Secret Service, Treasury Department,
Washington, D.C., it will receive the attention of the experts and, if it is authentic, it will be returned

They Buy Fat Calves at Annual Stock Show

Claude Sutton and Barry Brown bought two steers. They are shown with Billy Owen, of Camden. They also bought ten bar rows.

Ray Lawrence, of First National Bank, bought calves from Billy Barton on the left and Scotty Feemster, both of Nashville.

Ray Turner, President of the 3rd District Livestock Show, bought a calf for Harold Hendrix and the Trading Post.

LETTERS To The Editor

This your newspaper. Write to it. Address letters to: Editor The Star, P.O. Box 648, Hope, Ark. 71801.

All letters must be signed, with address, so you are identified to the newspaper staff, but if the character of the letter permits we will allow use of a pen-name in the publication, in which case you should add "Citizen," or some other word below your real name and address.

Pen-names are permitted when a letter deals only with issues. Direct attacks upon public officials, however, must bear the writer's name for publication.

GLEN CAMPBELL SHOW

Editor the Star: I would like to take this opportunity to thank the Hope Star for the coverage of the trip that my husband, Carter Russell and C.M. (Pod) Rogers made to California. Much preparation was made in securing a position on the Glen Campbell Show and we should consider ourselves fortunate in having received the recognition that our city was given on our prize watermelons. Our hats are off to Glen for accepting his home state products and also for his success in show business.

A note of thanks should be extended to Pod for his presentation of the watermelon. He presented it in an exemplary fashion before a television audience of 40 million people.

We all love our city and our state and as citizens, we cannot do enough to help promote our Hope watermelons which has made our city famous as the "Watermelon Capital of the World".
